

Gauge Pod Adapter

Thank you for your order of The Z Garage's Gauge Pod Adapter, which allows you to easily and securely mount your aftermarket gauge pod into the center console of your Z.

Installation of the gauge pod adapter is fairly straightforward. Simply wire in your new gauge harness in the dash. Then using the mounting pieces from your gauge pod, mount the gauge pod to the adapter. Note the orientation of the pod in the adapter as the thicker side of the adapter goes at a 7-8 o'clock angle in the dashboard. Then simply connect any wires to your gauge pod, and press the adapter and gauge in through the front of the existing cup.

Ensure all sides are being pressed in evenly with no visible gaps around any of the edges. Press in until the gauge is snug.

Note that if it is pressed in at an angle, the adapter may slip through the original cup. It can easily be pulled back out should this happen.

If you have any questions or concerns about your gauge pod adapter, please contact us at thezgarageco@gmail.com or you can fill out a contact form on our website at thezgarage.net/contact-us.